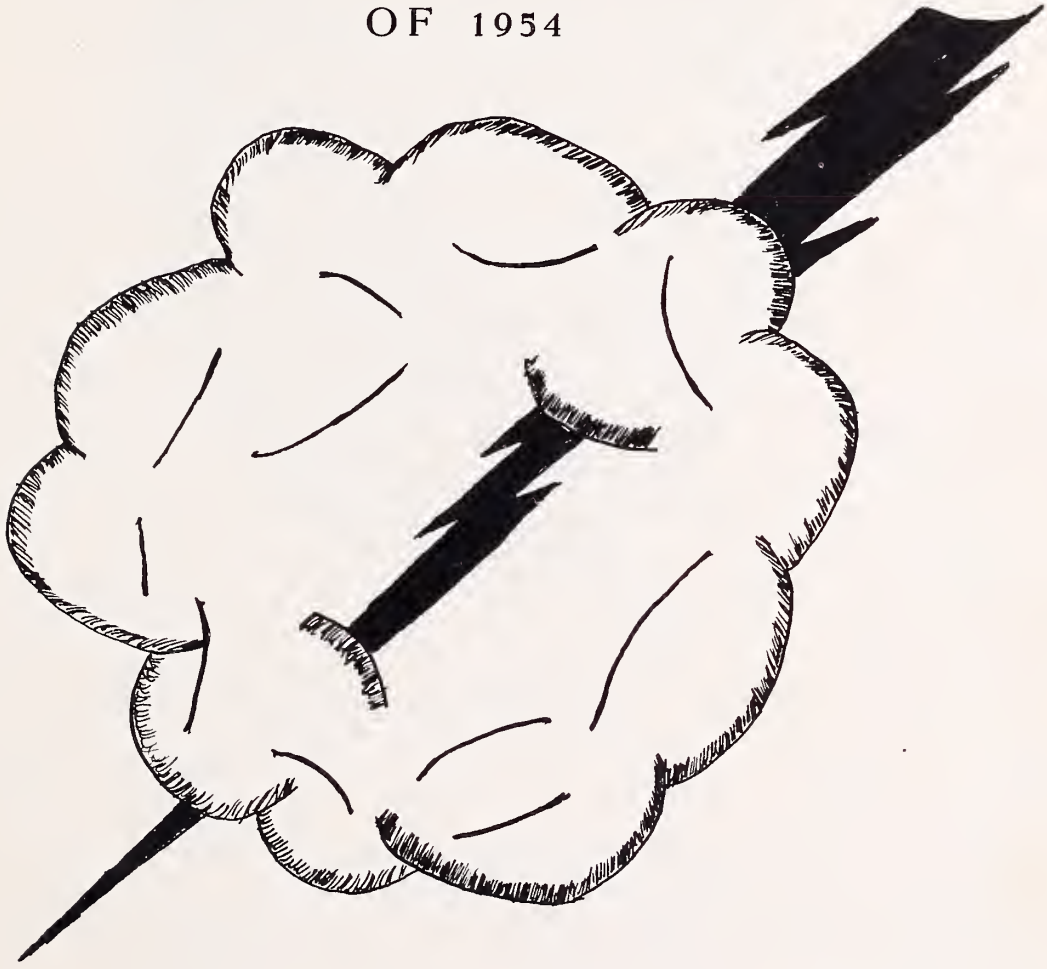
PRESENTING

THE

THUNDERBOLT

OF 1954



EDITED BY SENIORS

HAYSI HIGH SCHOOL

YEARBOOK HOUSE . . . PUBLISHERS . . . KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

HAYSI
PUBLIC LIBRARY
HAYSI, VIRGINIA

CLASS MOTTO

"In ourselves our future lies."

CLASS FLOWER — Orchid

CLASS COLORS — Cerise and Silver

CLASS YELL

Ram it in; jam it in; Seniors' heads are hollow.
Cram it in; slam it in; still there's more to follow.
Sing with us; make a fuss. We are so elated,
Say, "Good-bye, Haysi High." Now we're graduated.

Dedication

To one whose untiring and unceasing devotion to the betterment of our school and the advancement of its pupils has made her a favorite among students and faculty alike;

To one whose sapient counseling, exalted leadership, warm personality and personal sacrifices have endeared her to everyone who has come into her orbit;

To one whose guidance and tutelage have been an inspiration to us, we, the graduating class of 1954, with pride, gratitude and appreciation, respectfully dedicate this annual, the THUNDERBOLT, to our class sponsor, Mrs. Negetha G. Powers.

Principal's Message

Even though you have labored under great handicaps these five years, you have come through with flying colors, and I am justly proud of you. It is my hope that you will continue to go forward to meet the challenge of the hour and may success reward your every effort.

This year's issue of THE THUNDERBOLT is a worthy successor to all the productions that have preceded it, and I am sure that all the readers will join me in hearty congratulations to this year's staff.

Best wishes always,

J. M. Tarwater

J. M. TARWATER, Principal

OUR SCHOOL — its friendly walls hold fond memories of happy hours, cherished friendships, serious endeavor and lasting achievement. We, the last class to graduate from the old building, are happy to complete our courses within the walls that we entered five years ago for there is a spirit and a tradition that lingers and permeates each nook and corner and we feel that we have helped to establish it.

SCHOOL SONG

In the shadows of the mountains
Reared against the sky
Stands our dear old Haysi High School
As the years go by.

Sound the chorus, speed it onward
We will never fail
Hail to thee, our Haysi High School
Hail to thee, all Hail!

In thy halls we formed our friendships
Dear old High School home
And to thee we pledge our hearts
Never more to roam.

Senior Class History

August 25, 1949 was a momentous day for Haysi High School. Into its tired old halls trooped 120 rosy-cheeked cherubs, brimming with vitality and energy. The teachers vied with each other for the privilege of working with these youthful savants. The lucky ones were Mrs. Jane Janey, Science; Miss Marjorie Matney, Math.; Arthur Counts, History and Kathleen Cruise, English.

Some forty-odd of this group learned so much the first year that they did not report back with the rest of the class when the fall term opened in 1950. There were new faces behind the teacher's desks this year: Milton Owens, Science; Wayne Arrington, Math.; Scott O'Connor, English. Only Mr. Counts had survived the first year's ordeal. At the end of that year, two of the teachers decided that Banking and Dentistry were far more relaxing than H.H.S. and so they left, never to return. Casualties so far, five teachers, sixty students.

Came August 1951. Again the old cowbell resounded merrily through the halls, and again sixty pairs of feet responded eagerly to its call. By this time, some brave souls had become so acclimated that they ventured across the frail structure which spans the tempestous Russell Fork. Here they sought further knowledge in the realms of Home Ec., and Agriculture, under the capable Miss Browning and Mr. Mullins. Those who were not yet ready to "cross over the river" remained on the other side under the tutelage of Miss Janski and Mr. Tarwater (History), Scott (Mutt) O'Connor and Amos (Jeff) Hawkins (English), Mrs. Cain and Mr. Willis (Commercial) and Mr. Robinson (Math.).

August 1952. Juniors! Now nobody but the Seniors could look down on them. It was such fun to direct the eighth graders to the proper room or reprove them for pushing in the halls. They edited The Party Line, they sold magazines to finance the annual banquet and they got a taste of "show business" when they presented "The Adorable Imp." Then came the climax of the year, the Junior-Senior Banquet. For the first time in the school's history, the girls came glittering and lovely in their formals.

August 1953. Forty-five dignified (?) Seniors settled in room 3. There was a great deal to do this year and a little hard to settle down to it. In October there were Christmas cards to sell and the Halloween Carnival to sponsor. In December, there were shiny new rings on every finger, school emblem shirts to sell and the Senior play, "Mr. Beane From Lima." There was the photographer to make pictures for the annual, "THE THUNDERBOLT," bigger and better than ever.

There is more to come — The Junior-Senior Banquet, the Senior trip, commencement and then ? ? ? ? ? ?

Last Will and Testament

I, Charles Davis, will my dimples to Raymond Rakes. I, Nancy Boyd, will my love for acting to Betty Puckett. We, Margaret Bowen and Patsy Kilgore, will our meanness to everyone. I, Madge Edwards, will my flirty ways to anyone who will take them. I, Betty Barton, will my love for basketball to Betty Puckett.

I, Glechia Mullins, will my love for school to Rayenna Mae Phillips. I, Carroll Edwards, will my ability to start windstorms to Bob Willis. I, Fayne Edwards, will my advanced algebra book to Don S. if he's dumb enough to take it and smart enough to pass it. I, Lois Edwards, will my love for country music to anyone who likes it as much as I. I, Joyce Fields, will my love for music to Stoney Fields. I, Ralph Harlow, will my moonshine to Mr. Tarwater and my love to Rita Counts. I, Lois Arrington, will my ignorance to Mary Sue Sykes. I, Patsy Owens, will my love for bookkeeping to anyone who is crazy enough to take it. I, Jimmy Church, will my place in the pool room to Miss Fields. I, Susie Stanley, will my love for reading books to the eighth grade girls. I, Evelyn Yates, will my love for volley ball to the eighth grade girls.

I, Jake Bailey, will my voice to Mr. Tarwater. I, Joe Mullins, will my geometry book to anyone stupid enough to take it and smart enough to pass it. I, Rose Marie Hill, will my love for Asie Viers to Mary Evelyn Willis. We, Retha Mullins and Peggy Spriggs, will our ignorance to Sue Puckett. I, Eugene Yates, will my ability for being late for school to Clinton Fuller. I, Rachel Deel, will my love for Mrs. Negetha Powers and for school to Betty Puckett. I, Doloros Raczkowski, will my love for K.R. to Charlotte Sutherland. I, Joyce Turner, will my good grades to Gail and Fayne. I, Margie Sykes, will my love for wrestling to Mrs. Negetha Powers.

I, Lucille T. Belcher, will my basketball uniform to Shirley Taylor. I, Shirley Edwards, will my love for reading to anyone who wants it. I, Dolly Hill, will my love for all boys except Carroll to a certain eighth grade girl. I, Jerry Mullins, will my shortness, my love for wine and women, to Raymond Raczkowski. I, Joel Turner, will my geometry book to whomever is foolish enough to take it. I, Bill Anderson, will my job as treasurer to anyone who wants headaches next year. I, Mary Alice Powers, will my temper to Lillian Hay in the hope that she won't use it as much as I did. I, Lillian Counts, will my love for basketball to Lema Counts. I, Betty Owens, will my love for handsome men to anyone who loves them as much as I do.

I, Shirley Hay, will my height to Mr. O'Connor. I, Kenneth O'Quinn, will my tenth grade English book to Mrs. Arrington, hoping that she will get more from it than I did. I, Leamond Ramsey, will my post outside the library door to anyone who is worthy of it. I, Mary Miller, will my love for all boys to Ruby Fuller. I, George Mullins, being of sound mind, take all my possessions with me. I, K. R. Sutherlnad, hereby will all my love for work ha, ha, ha, to J. R. Silcox. We, Trulah Edwards and Louise Barton, party of the first part, hereby will our entire estate of evil minds to be divided equally between Susie Edwards and Gregory Barton, parties of the second part. This will writ, on the fifteenth day of December in the year of our Lord, 1953.

Class Prophecy

The story you are about to read is true. Only your glasses should be changed to protect your eyes. My name is George Mullins. I'm a cop. I work out of No. 13 on the hoot owl shift. At 1:01 on December 31, 1969, Chief Jerry M. called me into his office. He told me to have a seat, at 1:03 D.A. Ralph H. arrived. The chief briefed me on the situation. U.S. Sec. to the Treas., Bill A., was suspected of defrauding the government of about a million a week. The chief just wanted me to get the facts. It was suspected that Anderson's sec., Mary M., was getting most of the benefits of the loot. In turn, Miller's sec., Charles D., all at once began to drive Cadillacs and buy his sec., minks. I hopped a cab down to Ciros. The cab driver, Margie S., a retired wrestler, pulled up to a screeching halt in front of the joint. I was glad that ride was over. I just wanted the facts, not a funeral. I stepped through the door and the bouncer, Trulah E., without a giggle, asked me if I were old enough to come in. I flashed my badge and said, "I just want the facts, mam." I stared around the room. The cigarette girls, Dolores R., Miss Chop Suey of 1968, Betty B., ex-Martin Bomberette, and Rachel D., were all lingering close to the table of Jake B. and Joe M., recent multi-millionaire oil men. I sauntered over to the proprietress, Lillian C., and began to question her. She said it was time for the floor show. I ordered a shot of "Red eye." As the bartender, Margaret B., poured it, the floor show began. The orchestra, directed by Lois E., heralded the entrance of the unsurpassable opera singer, Patsy K. After her rendition of "Figero," the incomparable impersonator, Louise B., gave a series of imitations, ending with Minnie Pearl.

The audience held its breath as Carroll E. and Dolly H. Edwards and Sons did the most pulsative trapeze act of the new era. As the stage was cleared for the next act, I glanced around the room. At 2:07, everything seemed so so; nothing suspicious. Over in one corner, Fayne E. and companion Shirley H., Oscar winners for their performances in "Romeo and Juliet," were lighting cigarettes with $100 bills. At the next table, K.R.S., inventor of a new and fast way to "age" liquor, sat with Retha M., Patsy O., and Madge E. All three were old maids but still in there pitching. Aha! there he was! The fellow I was looking for. I asked him his name. He said his name was Kenneth O'Quinn. I asked him where he got all his dough. "Shootin' pool," he replied. The show began again and in the confusion, my man got away. I decided to watch the show before I went after him. Chorus girls, Sally M., Evelyn Y., Shirley E. and Glechia M., supplemented the dance number of Leamond R., new Fred Astaire, and Betty O., Grable's successor. I liked the costumes on the chorus girls. I moved closer. I wanted to get the facts. Then Joyce F., Susie S., Joyce T., and Rose H., played musical instruments that they had devised and named. They had a ukitar, a saxiano, a manjo and a viokiphone.

On my way out I bumped into a couple of my friends from the press, Gene Y., and Mary P. They were writing an article on the life of a married T.V. actress and using as examples, Lois A., Lucille B., and Nancy B. I bought a paper at the corner and read the headlines. Joel T., head of the poultry dept., of the U.S., said he had devised a method to get hens to lay eggs already scrambled, feed them Mix-Masters. When I got back to the office, ace detective, Jim C. already had O'Quinn. I asked Jim's sec., Peggy S., where he had caught O'Quinn. "In the poolroom," she said. I went to see the chief. The D.A. was with him .They were congratulating Church. Chief snarled at me. "Fine way to start a new year," he said. "I just tried to get the facts," I replied.

SOFTBALL

What's happening to softball? In the past years almost every high school practiced softball and had very good teams. But this year only two high schools in the county had teams that played inter-school competition. These schools were Ervington and Haysi.

Softball has been declining as a school sport. Haysi's softball team didn't come out on top this year in the two games that were played, but the rest of Haysi High think their effort was tops. Haysi High knows that the teams are great, and all of Haysi's student and faculty are with them all the way. The two most outstanding softball players of Haysi High are George Mullins, shortstop; and Glen Anderson, first base .

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

The starting team is Betty Barton, Lucille Belcher, Madge Edwards, forwards. Shirley Taylor, Patsy Kilgore and Lillian Counts, guards.

The Haysi girls team won 12 out of 16 games this season. Most teams would consider this an excellent feat, but because of the records established by their predecessors, it is looked upon as a mediocre season. Due to bad weather, the girls were lucky to get two days practice a week, thus allowing lesser teams with better practice facilities to surpass them. Nevertheless, in only one of the four games lost did their opponents outscore them by more than three points. The girls lost by only two points in the county finals. In only one game this season were they defeated before the final gun. The girls always played hard and in a sportsmanlike manner and were noted for their ability and fighting spirit. Next year, their coach, H. D., will have to start from scratch, as all the starting team except Shirley Taylor, graduate.

BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

This season has been one of the most successful in the history of the school. The boys in pre-tourney and county tournament play have won all of their 15 games. The District Tournament is yet to be played as we go to press. The boys, despite their handicap of not having a gym, have beaten such teams as Clintwood, Ervinton, and Clinchco, who have in the past posed an almost unsurmountable obstacle. This year was the first time since 1935 that they have beaten a Clintwood boys team.

Although they lost out in the first round of the County Tournament, the students, faculty and fans are proud of the boys and their fine fighting, competitive spitit.

The first team is composed of guards, Jack Hay, George Mullins; Forwards, Lowell Bartley and K. R. Sutherland and center Glenn Anderson. Co-Captains are K. R. and George.

Special Events

On the night of May 8, 1953, the annual Junior-Senior banquet was held at the Royal Cafe. All teachers were present and all Juniors and Seniors except four. A delicious meal was served by three alumni of H.H.S.

The entertainment was provided by speakers from both the Junior and Senior classes. The cafe was decorated in red, white and blue, the class colors. The motto was: "It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

The room was dimly lighted by candles. The girls looked lovely in their formals and the boys finished out the picture in their top hats, white ties and tails. Everyone reported a fine time.
